WARE - SCREENING REPORT

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SUBJECT NAME:</th>
<th>Alisha Brown</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>METHODOLOGY:</td>
<td>Rorschach test</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MEDICAL EXAMINER:</td>
<td>A. Rhodes Ph.D</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>DATE:</td>
<td>2018/03/28</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

PATIENT RESULTS:

Upon seeing the image, the patient smiled and said it looked like a flower. Not your common flower, but a special one. She didn’t specify what kind.

Answer could indicate that the patient is without fear of the unknown.

MEDICAL EXAMINATION EXTRACT:

Cross-comparison of the exosuits across dreamers has revealed slight aesthetic variation between them. While all the suits appear to be functionally identical, several distinct sections of manufacturing variation have been identified.

Note: Similarly, the backpack and its attachment harness appear to have significant stylistic variation.
SCREENING FOR POTENTIAL FOR HARM TO SELF OR OTHERS

Have you ever hurt someone?
I’ve tried not to, but I might have hurt someone on accident without realizing it.

Have you ever thought of killing someone?
Never in my life have I thought of doing something like that.

Have you ever lied?
I’m a mother. I had to lie to my kids about certain things when they were younger. All mothers do this to some degree.

On a daily basis?
No, only when needed. I tried hard not to lie to my kids if I could help it.